Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing to summarise our relationship with Evolve Technologies (PVT) Ltd based in Colombo, Sri Lanka.

We have been working with Evolve Technologies in the area of custom software development since 2012. We initially started our software development centre in Colombo with test team of 3 staff. As the model proved itself, we have grow it to employing 15 staff and the Colombo team now forms the backbone of our software development group.

We found that we have been able to hire and retain a excellent calibre of staff in Colombo and they have provided a high level of quality and reliability to us and our customers.

I can highly recommend the Evolve model of business as it provides a high level of openness and transparency. The working conditions, HR and operational support that Evolve provides are exceptional and enable us to provide conditions for our team that both foster high levels of productivity and that we are proud of. For these reasons, I have recommended Evolve to many other companies.

I expect our relationship with Evolve will continue to grow in the future and I can strongly recommend them to anyone considering their services.

Yours sincerely,

David Barton
Managing Director
